Coldwell Says

Food, Housing
Is Emergency

OTTAWA, March 8.—(CP)—A long term agricultural program providing guaranteed prices and improved living conditions is essential to the fulfillment of Canada's part in providing food and shelter for a starving world, J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said today.

"The CCF will demand that unemployment and housing be considered at once as a part of a grave national emergency which must be met as we meet the need for grain and other foodstuffs," he said.

"To provide food for starving countries is essential to our own production be pressed to its limits. This means more than temporary assurance of decent output," he said.

"THE FEEDING OF our people and of the world requires a long term policy based on guaranteed prices, the improvement of land conditions, electrification, increased mechanization, the use of labor-saving devices in the home, improved sanitation, the encouragement of community activities such as libraries, educational and cultural opportunities and so on."

Mr. Coldwell said the $120,000,000 loan to the United States for the purchase of grain "is a right direction" of aiding distressed nations.

Student 'Convicted'

By Varsity Court

VANCOUVER, March 8.—(CP)—R. P. Barsby, a student of the University of British Columbia, was found guilty yesterday of conduct affecting the university by a unanimous decision of the student discipline committee.

Sentence imposed by the committee included payment of a $25 fine and the suspension of all privileges under the Alma Mater Society for the next two months.

"The CHARGE WAS BASED on a section of the Alma Mater code which states that 'each student shall be responsible to the student council for conduct which may be held directly or indirectly to affect the university.'"

Decision was handed down by a unanimous vote of the eight sitting members after 45 minutes' deliberation.

"Prosecution was based on the claim that Barsby had written a breach of confidence in writing article, while the defense contended that no committee could control 'objective reporting and freedom of the press.'"

ATTEND DANCE IN TORONTO

TORONTO, March 8.—(CP)—Five German prisoners-of-war who came to Toronto last night to attend a dance, and four others caught in the home of a bootlegger, are being returned to the brickyard at nearby Cooksville where they are employed.

ALERTNESS of many veterans who recognized them led to the apprehension of the five Germans.

THE EX-SAILOR, who asked that his name be withheld, said he had been tormented and machine-gunned by Germans during the war. On discharge, the only job National Selective Service could offer him was that of laborer in a Cooksville brickyard at 20¢ an hour, he said.

The veteran said the Germans employed at the brickyard had ordered him about and he had become suspicious that the Germans were receiving outside help in obtaining civilian clothes and transportation for frequent trips to the city.

ALBERTA, Manitoba and Northern Ontario had qualified for the regular rounds of the round-robin sport in a three-way tie with seven victories and two defeats each.

British Press Hails Canadian Financial Aid

LONDON, March 8.—(Reuters)—Canada's $1,250,000,000 loan to Britain was warmly welcomed in the British press today.

"TRULY, WE BRITISH have reason to glory in the solidarity of the Empire," Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express commented. "It is a very generous act."

The Daily Express said: "A really remarkable contribution towards settling Britain's debt."

The Daily Express said: "If you believe that Britain needs aid, then this is a loan which we can accept with gratitude and with the assurance that we can honorably discharge our obligations."

The Times said: "The agreement will provide invaluable assistance to this country in facilitating an orderly transition to a peacetime economy. It implies an acknowledgment to point out that at the same time Canada also should gain greatly thereby, since the United Kingdom must be one of the principal markets for the export trade of $1,250,000,000 a year which, among the leading economic allies of the Dominion."

THE DAILY MAIL said: "The thanks and gratitude of the British people are again due to Canada, as they were at all times during the war."

"On the many services which Canada has rendered to the Empire and the world during the war must now be added a really remarkable contribution towards settling Britain's debt. The credit of $1,250,000,000 which the government of Canada has granted follows upon unequalled generosity in the shape of gifts and interest-free loans and it must be remembered that Canada's generosity has by no means been confined to money."

"ALL THIS HELP has been and will be accorded by a community numbering no more than 12,000,000. The heart is, indeed, indeed, the treasure is also."

"The credit is an effective loan—a recognition that the two react one upon the other and neither can be really prosperous in isolation."

"It is," he said, "that we should stand together."

"We should stand together in malice to none, in greed for no cause, but in defence of those causes which we hold dear and only for our own benefit, but because we believe they mean the honor and the happiness of the world."

Mr. Churchill said that he had longed to see Britain would have to become the 48th state of the union, he said, but that he had read only yesterday an editor's argument that the United States should not be asked to rejoin the British Empire.

"IT SEEMS TO ME," he went on, "that the world of wisdom lies somewhere between these two extremes. We must find the means and the method of working together not only in times of war and mortal anguish, but in times of peace with all its bewilderment and clamor of tongue."

For, said Mr. Churchill, "it is in the years of peace that wars are prevented."

"But," he cautioned, "peace will not be preserved by naive sentiments expressed in terms of official apologies and diplomatic cortiside."

"IT WILL NOT be preserved," he said, "by doing aside in dangerous times the panoply of war-like strength. There must be earnest thought. There must also be faithful perseverance and foresight."

Greatheart must have the sword and armor to guard the Pilgrims on their way. Above all, among the English-speaking peoples, there must be the union of hearts based upon conviction and common ideals. That is what I offer. That is what I seek."

Leave Wafdstists Out Egypt Treaty Talks

From Canadian Press, Associated Press and British United Press dispatches

Premier Ismail Sidki Pasha announced after a meeting of the Egyptian cabinet yesterday that he will form a delegation for the forthcoming treaty talks with Britain without the participation of the Wafd (Nationalist) Party.

This followed a declaration by the Wafdstists that they would only join the talks if they were given a majority in the delegation and also its chairmanship.

The first elements of Chinese troops in Northern Indo-China, created by the French, were ordered to cease unauthorized hostilities against the French, who reported 10 soldiers were killed in a clash Wednesday when Chinese artillery fired on the French.

Allied headquarters in Tokyo announced today that the last of four American industrial plants in connection with a 1,000,000 yen (166,667) black market transaction had signed contracts.

The four were ordered to hand over their property to the government for charges against them.

WHITNEY, Ont. March 8.—(CP)—An Ontario supreme court judge today convicted Lorne Cecil Harris of the murder Nov. 10 of Mr. Andrew Harris, 25, of nearby Ajax. Ont. Harris was sentenced to hang May 28.

Mrs. Lyons, wife of an almanac tinsmith in Newfoundland and the mother of two small children, was found strangled in her home.

Police said the upper portion of her pyjamas had been twisted tightly around her neck.

MAIN PRICES OF CIGARETTES in the United States were reported by the U.S. Bureau of Census today.

With respect to wheat—Canada is the only country in the world that requires its export wheat to be sold at less than the world price.

Under the government's present price policy, Canadian farmers will receive $200 a bushel.

THIS LOSS, these producers are required to accept because the government is forcing them to sell over 200,000 bushels on the export market at $1.55 a bushel, which is some 40 per cent below the world price.

It is not surprising that some farmers have held back some of their wheat when it is appreciated that government restrictions force them to accept $1.55 a bushel for part of it and $1.55 a bushel for another part, when the present world price is about $1.55 a bushel in Canadian funds.

It is not surprising that it is time now for the government to remove these arbitrary restrictions and to let Canadian farmers bring what it will on the world market, at least to the present world price.

It is also time that it announce that there will be no restrictions on grain and no marketing of the 1945 crop, so that farmers will not be discouraged from sowing whatever acreage good farming methods will permit. To get more in this emergency, the Canadian farmers should be freed from the government-imposed pool.

Spy Case

of capitalistic countries such as Canada were ill-fated, discredited and insecure in their employment.

WHEN THE COUPLE found Canadians a hale and hearty people, confident about their future and their work, the Goussiauxs were sharply remarked at the embassy that they had been misinformed.

The couple were being transferred back to the Soviet. Then the couple decided to tell Canadian authorities what they knew about the Goussiauxs' undercover activities and seek haven in Canada.

A threatening letter, believed to have been written by a crank or a prankster, was received by Mrs. Bernadette Goussiaux, secretary of Crown Attorney Kavanagh, who assisted Goussiaux and his wife in getting to town with Canadian authorities.

The letter, which was signed "Three Stars," warned Mrs. Goussiaux "if there are any more stories about you in the newspaper you will not be around to read them" and told her that if she did not stop her work in the "big case" she was to "forget about the money" she came to see you had September.

MRS. JOUBANE said she did not take the letter seriously and declined an offer of police protection.

Further development in the inquiry was a statement in authoritative quarters that the wives of the men held in the RCMP barracks had been barred from their husbands' homes.

The ban was said to have arisen from the fact some of the wives visited an oath to keep secret anything they learned during their visit to the barracks.

WESTON, Ont. March 8.—(CP)—A group of residents last night started a drive to raise funds for the legal fight of the Cuthberts, 24, to fight eviction from their home.

Since Tuesday Mrs. Ferguson has successfully defied efforts by sheriff's officers to turn her out of her home after they removed her furniture.

NEIGHBORS who rallied to her aid, moved in two beds and a radio. Mrs. Ferguson was spry and cheerful and friends and relatives her.

"They tried to put me in a home, but I'm going to stay here," she said.

Dollar bills and silver poured in as an open air meeting gathered outside a garage.

"It was your own mother, 84 years old, being thrown out and sent to a home, how would you feel about it?" one of the people at the meeting asked.

To the sensitive ear of the musical artist, to fingers and hands developed to the acme of feeling and responsiveness by long hours of practice, the tone and touch of a piano is paramount.

Heintzman's "Elgin" stands only 41 1/2" high. Judged by old-fashioned standards, the Elgin is a small piano—but is large enough to allow string length—and soundboard area—that gives an unusual volume of clear, mellow tone. Small enough to satisfy the modern need for saving space, the quality and volume of its tone is equal to pianos of much larger size.

Many Canadians and International artists acclaim Heintzman piano as the perfect instrument. The priceless musical qualities of touch and tone are built into every Heintzman.

Tells of Hitler Rift

Goering Fights for Life
At Nuernberg War Trials

By WALTER CRONKITE

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
 NUERNBERG, March 8.—(U.P.)—Reichsmarschall Hermann Goering tried vainly to prevent war and only built up the Luftwaffe for use if Germany's neighbors started it, his one-time second in command testified before the War Crimes court today.

MARSHAL ERHARD MILCH, next to Goering in the German air command, was the second witness as the defense for the Nazi leaders opened.

Milch testified that Goering did not want war, "but in his position there was nothing he could do—it was hopeless."

Before 1935, Milch said, there was no German air force and only 3,000 industrial workers in aircraft.

Goering, aware of Nazi experiments on human guinea pigs at Dachau, "wanted no part of them," Milch said.

He quoted Goering as saying before the war that captured airmen should be "treated as our comrades."

Milch wore a blue Luftwaffe uniform without his insignia as he testified on behalf of his former chief.

Earlier, Lt. Gen. Karl Bodenschatz, a friend of the pudgy Reichsmarschall, told of deteriorating relations between Hitler and Goering, which suffered particularly after the night of Allied air raids became felt in Germany.

"He was cringing and sweating by the time Robert Jackson, chief American prosecutor, finished cross examining him. He acknowledged that Goering said during the Spanish Civil War that 'we already are in a state of war—it's only that no shot is being fired.'"

Bodenschatz pictured Goering as a peace-loving man who opposed war with Russia and the Jewish pogroms. He said Goering came out of the conference room when the Munich Pact was signed in 1938 and said happily, "That is peace."

Goering's influence with Hitler began to wane in the spring of 1943, Bodenschatz testified. Goering made tremendous but futile efforts to regain the Führer's ear.

Four Cars Derailed
Train "Second Best"
In Clash With Moose

VANCOUVER, March 8.—(C.P.)—The victory of a moose over a Canadian National Railway freight was reported yesterday by CNR officials here, who reported four empty freight cars were derailed. It was not known in Vancouver what happened to the moose.

EARLY WEDNESDAY A MOOSE charged the rear end of a slow-moving freight train about 75 miles east of Prince George in the north-central section of British Columbia. The steps of the caboose were broken.

Six hours later a moose, possibly the same one, charged another slow-moving freight train from the side. Two of the empty cars went completely off the tracks, one was crushed over the right-of-way and the fourth was off the rails.

THE SECOND ATTACK on a train occurred about one mile distant from the scene of the first.

The derailed held up the westbound passenger train for six hours.

CNR officials at Vancouver said that persons who have come from the area recently reported many moose along the railway, adding they were probably driven from their usual haunts by the forests and mountains by deep snow and wolves.

THE RAILWAY SPOKESMEN said they had a report of two moose running in front of a train last week, and one turned and charged head-on into the engine.

frequently criticized Goering opened. Their conferees grew shorter and shorter, and finally ceased altogether.

Goering once boasted that no Allied bombs ever would fall on Germany. It was in 1943 that the Anglo-American air offensive first began to have a heavy effect on German industry and communications.

In the final days of the war Hitler had Goering arrested after the Reichsmarschall sent him a telegram "seeking permission to act for himself since Hitler no longer had freedom of action," the witness said.

Goering sat in the defendant's box, obviously enjoying himself as the centre of proceedings. He alternately smiled and glowered for photographers, then looked thoughtful while Bodenschatz testified.

He testified that Goering had told Hitler that it was "unbearable" to think of another war. Goering said.

Nostalgic Impressions of Forces
To Be Remembered by Canadians

LONDON, March 8.—(C.P.)—Headed "Last Look", 35 lines of type surrounded by pictures of 22nd Army, section from a pub to Thomas Bridges summed up in the final issue of the United Kingdom edition of the Maple Leaf the nostalgic impressions every Canadian soldier has had of England as he goes home.

THIS "REMEMBER" PIECE was unsigned but it was written by Capt. Jack Scott, assistant editor of the Canadian forces newspaper who before enlisting wrote a column in the Vancouver News-Herald.

This story caught the fancy of Canadians here and it is:

Latest recruit to join Toronto's police force is Constable Fred "Topsy" Tophan, one of Canada's 14 Victoria Cross winners of the past war. He hopes eventually to get transferred to detective work.

Investigate Death of CCL Organizer

MOOSE JAW, Sask., March 8.—(C.P.)—Police today were investigating the death of Arthur Langton, Moose Jaw organizer for the Canadian Congress of Labor, who died in hospital here Thursday from a bullet in his brain. They said they were called to the hospital and told X-ray plates showed a bullet in Langton's head. Later, women who were at Langton's house said they had heard no shot but only the thud of his body when he fell. A rifle and ammunition found in the house were held by police. No inquest is scheduled to be held.

Ex-CWAC Member Dies by Gas Fumes

VANCOUVER, March 8.—(C.P.)—Ruth Watson, 39-year-old former member of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, who disappeared last Dec. 10 and returned eight days later with the explanation that she had been visiting friends in Prince Rupert, B.C., was found dead yesterday in the living room of her Kitanoan district home.

T. F. Cockley, a friend, discovered the body when he went to visit her mother. Police said the body was lying face down on two Chesterfield cushions and a pillow. A gas fireplace was turned on full and papers were stuffed under the doors.

Mrs. A. E. Watson, her mother, was too overcome to give an account of the tragedy.

AT THE TIME of the girl's disappearance last December, she left home early in the evening to meet a girl friend at a downtown intersection. When she failed to appear after an hour's wait, the friend raised an alarm.

Police scoured the city and radio stations and newspapers looked appeals for clues. Finally on Dec. 18, Watson was found walking along an East Hastings district street by a taxi driver and taken to her home.

She said police she had been feeling depressed and had taken a trip to Prince Rupert, where she registered in an hotel under another name, and after a three-day visit returned to Vancouver. Police closed the case on receipt of her report and request of her mother.

HE TOLD THE MEMBERS that work had been cancelled on the battalions Luce, Tenebris, Gustor and Thunder and that only one battalion, the 42,000-ton Langford, was under construction.

He said the reason for the cancellation was that "All our shipbuilding resources were required for more immediate needs."

Britain had survived unpreparedness in the past because of the shield of the Royal Navy but each time the safety margin had grown less, he said. Britain and the empire had shown their willingness

In Canada, however, salt has far wider significance, even though to most of us it is just a table essential. When treated chemically by C-I-L Windsor, Ontario, it also becomes the basis for such commodities as chlorine, hydrochloric acid, caustic soda and synthetic ammonia, which have a range of application from the treatment of drinking water to the curing of hides.

Bigger Mortgages?

Hon. C. D. Howe says loan companies may grant larger building loans on basis of relatively low cost. That would be some small advantage. People with little money on hand could then build houses for themselves, provided they could get the mortgage to meet the loan payments.

But this would not touch the position of the man who has only a small or even moderate income. However, if the cost of the payment, he could not hope to pay off the loan on a standard house built at present prices. The instalments would keep him in poverty for years.

One way or another the total price of newly built homes will have to be brought down if people who are not rich are to become owners—or renters—of these. The most effective way is to adopt a subsidized housing policy, with the Government paying enough of the construction cost to bring the sale prices and the rentals down within reach of those who have only ordinary incomes.

Increasing the mortgage that has to be paid off, with interest, will not make a dear house cheap enough to matter to the man who cannot hand more than a few dollars a month as rent or as instalment on the purchase price. That, or less than that, is as much as 50 per cent of Canadians can afford to pay.

Those Rear Doors

Edmonton's street railway system continues to set new records. Last month the cars and buses carried 3,084,963 passengers, a gain of more than 300,000 over the figures for February of last year. For the first two months of 1946 the total was 6,287,690, beating the figures for the first two months of last year by 656,178.

This being the case, and the continuing traffic tendency, what about restoring conductors or conductresses on the main line cars, and so making the rear doors more crowded at all but the slack hours, and compelling passengers to get on and off at the same end of the car as they get in, thus creating confusion, delay operation, spreading disease germs—and ill humor.

Despite a fair share of the blame, and whoops from the distracted motorman, passengers will not "move along to the rear" when they know they can't get out at the back end. The other one is tucked in the rear, the longer and fiercer fight he has to put up to get to the front by the time the stop is reached. Street cars and human nature join to keep the throng packed near the doors, and when the car stops, incoming and outgoing passengers mill around the front vestibule with no way out but the clock and calculates how far off schedule he is.

The cars are carrying more people than they can comfortably accommodate. The system is out of the "red" financially. There is no need to stick to one-man operation on the busy lines. The rear doors deserve better treatment. The rear doors should be put to use. That is what they are for.

Stalin isn't Jittery

Mr. Churchill seems to have thrown quite a scare into the minds of the Russians, with his proposal that the English-speaking nations stand openly together to protect themselves against the possibility of attack.

Some Congressional leaders are said to feel that this speech will heighten Russia's "suspicion" of the intentions of the western powers. One of them doesn't see how we can inspire Russia with "confidence" if the United States and the British Commonwealth are known to be taking advantage of themselves by mutual assistance if that should ever become necessary.

Do these gentlemen, or any other people, imagine that "Uncle Joe" Stalin is a weakling who awakes tonight he suspects that the democracies might get together and levy aggressive war against Russia? If so, they would be growing up, buy a map, and read the newspapers.

As for "confidence", Mr. Stalin is one of the most confident men in the world. It is confidence undisturbed by doubts, based squarely on a dead certainty. He knows that neither the United States nor the British Commonwealth has any intention of attacking Russia. And he is capitalizing on that very definite understanding of the facts to do some grabbing while the grabbing is good.

There is no need whatever to worry lest suspicions be aroused in Moscow by anything Mr. Churchill said, or by anything Washington or London may do. The serene Stalin is not jittery, not at all. He has taken the measure of his war partners and knows he has nothing to fear from them so long as he doesn't force a fight.

Britain Places a Big Order

Britain has placed a blanket order in Canada for $1,250,000 worth of goods. That is what is meant by the news that the Dominion has extended the old lands a line of credit in this country. No money will move from Ottawa to London in consequence. The loan is to be taken up by the purchase of products in Canada. If goods to this amount are not bought here, the amount of the loan will be less in proportion. But there isn't any danger of that; Britain isn't over-ordering at this juncture anyway.

Only nominally is this a financial transaction. In essence it is a trading agreement. It should be noted, is a new order. The loan does not take in debts already incurred, but to be paid wholly with the future. It provides a backlog of guaranteed demand in Britain for Canadian products, of such kinds and at such times as these may be required. As the interest on the amount is to start in 1951, the inference is that the whole $1,250,000 worth of products are to be taken during the next five years.

This clarifies the outlook for marketing Canadian farm and other supplies in Britain. It assures that producers in this Dominion will get this large and specified share in Britain's post-war requirements. But it does not imply that they may not get more. Quite the contrary.

To carry out the arrangement British buyers will have to make contacts with Canadian exporters. Such contacts will lead naturally to trade also outside the loan agreement, to the exchange of goods and services, and to purchases on cash or private credit account.

If the loan is an accommodation to British buyers, it is, or would be, only a down payment. It is also a business-getting transaction for Canadian producers, exporters and importers. That the loan is large only means in realistic terms that British buyers are arranged to buy Canadian products on an enormous scale.

Ten-foot snow banks in southern England? What will those sun spots do next?

The assets of the League of Nations are to be turned over to the United Nations Organization. They have a book value of $11,000,000. They should have an intangible value of $100,000,000.

Mr. Gordon Graydon is right in saying the time has come when Canada should have a full-time Minister of external affairs. The foreign relations of the Dominion are becoming too restricted to matters of trade. Whether we like it or not, Canada has a role to play in international politics as well; a role that is becoming more and more undivided attention of a singularly talented man.

BILLY ROSE, Bartley Swelin, Austin Smith and George Crooks may have thought it the hard way, but they certainly did a swell job for themselves, for the Edmonton Bulldogs and for Alberta, in finally winning through to the Canadian curling championship.

Twice before (1963 and '64) Billy had reached the Alberta Curling Finals, but had lost in that round. This time, the Bulldogs' skipper went the whole route and every curler in the province rejoices with him today.

IN BRINGING the MacDonald rink back to Alberta for the fourth time, Rose follows the trail blazed by Cliff Manahan of Edmonton and Howard Palmer of Calgary. Cliff skipped the winning rink in 1953 and again in 1957, while Palmer succeeded in 1961.

Just having engaged Leo Johnson's Manitobans in the semi-final of the special playoff, Billy, always a strong fighter, came through like the real champion he is against Northern Ontario, scoring singletons on the last two ends for his 54 victory.

THE 5300 hockey customers in the arena on Thursday night viewed one of the best moments of the hockey season and then one which for sustained action (barring the last few minutes) would be difficult to improve upon.

Four shots in exactly 65 seconds were the Flyers' salute to Ralph Alma as the second of the semi-finals got away. Ralph thought had the same deal as Ken McAlley for the rest of the period. All told, Alma had 23 hits to lead in the game as compared to 20 for Murray.

Ken finished in particularly severe performances toward the close of the first period and in the opening minutes of both the second and third. Elks got only two direct shots on the Edmonton goal during the last 15 minutes of the game, but they had several other shots.

Newly Crowned Curling Champions

Curling in Alberta received another boost when Skip Billy Rose and his Sedgewick rink won the Dominion curling championship and along with it the MacDonald Brier tankard at Saskatoon early this morning. The Rose rink had emerged as winners of the north Alberta British Consols competition held in conjunction with the recent Edmonton bonspiel, and reached the Brier playoff by eliminating Howard Palmer's Calgary quartet at the Royal rink here on Feb. 23. Finishing up yesterday afternoon in a three-way tie with Manitoba and Northern Ontario when the nine-round draw had been completed, the Alberta quartet came through to oust Manitoba 6-3 in the semi-final and then win top honors by stopping Northern Ontario 8-6 in the final, which concluded at an early hour this morning. In the above picture of Canada's curling kings, from left to right, are: George Crooks (lead), Austin Smith (second), Bartley Swelin (third), and Billy Rose (skip).

2nd Elk Goal the Break Latest Flyer Poll Says Three Straight

Edmonton Flyers leave for Saskatoon tonight with only a single win separating them from the West Canada final series, and Bobby Carle, Flyer captain, is of the opinion the semi-final will be a close one after one more game. The second of the series of playoff articles Carle is writing for readers of The Bulletin appears in this column today. As the games are played—SPORTS EDITOR.

A Gallup poll in the Flyers' dressing room after the game Thursday night and learned that all the boys would play on the Sabbath Day in Edmonton than at Saskatoon.

THE FOREGOING is another of saying that were going all the way to end this semi-final series with Saskatoon's fighting Elks at Saskatoon Sunday night and then qualify to meet Calgary Stampeders in the final series for the league championship.

Cop Finally Gets "Out" on Hurler Gal "Tosses Ball," Dad Umpires On Jasper Avenue Cafe Diamond

Baseball playing last night was not an unusual sight when Edmonton in fact they are a very welcome sight when they trot gracefully onto the diamond attired in natty shorts and sweaters.

BUT THE LASIE WHO unimpaired her "tossing arm" in the Alcan. cafe, 3755 Jasper Avenue, about 6:15 a.m. Friday was anything but welcome. At the end of a 15-minute pitching display, which was broken up by police, the scoreboard read: Damage to dishes, $60; windows, $14, and one electric clock out of commission.

Witnesses stated the "game" started when Bernadette Nolin was warned to stop destroying the silverware, which she is alleged to have been twirling into most unusable shape. Apparently angered at an attempt to frustrate her pastime, she yelled "play ball," and went on dis-throwing spurs rarely equalled in these parts.

MANY DISHES IN SIGHT were sent flying to be smashed against the floor, the walls and other patrons of the eating establishment. Running out of dishes on the counter, she is alleged to have vaulted over the counter and into the street.

According to witnesses, she tossed six perfect strikes at the electric clock with glass tumblers.

Meanwhile her father, John Nolin, is alleged to have run some fifty interference for his daughter—putting running blocks on each and every attempt to interfere with her pastime.

THE THROWING DISPLAY was only halted when Constable Peter Tyler of the city police force arrived and "threw out" father and daughter.

As the couple left under police escort, Bernadette is alleged by police to have turned to her father and commented, "Well, dad, we sure made a good job of that case."

Father and daughter were scheduled to appear in city police court Friday, both charged with intoxication and willful damage. The case was adjourned until Saturday when the court was informed Miss Nolin was unable to appear.

Page Declares Manning Budget "Orthodox" Type

Alberta's budget for 1946-47 is a splendid example of an "orthodox" budget, according to J. Percy Page (Ind.-Edmonton) who opened the budget debate in the Legislature Thursday afternoon.

THE BUDGET was introduced by Premier Ernest Manning and Mr. Page, as leader of the opposition, was the first speaker to deal with it from a critical point of view.

"It is exactly the same kind of a budget as we have seen before," he said "for the very good reason that under our present economic set up, all governments must depend for their revenues upon the pockets of the people."

The deliberate plan for a $30,000,000 deficit is the feature of the budget which has received the most public attention, the Independent leader pointed out.

Dealing with wisdom of such deficit budgeting Mr. Page said "If government has built up a surplus beyond the requirements of safety then I believe that government is perfectly justified in going ahead and giving the people the services they require."

PROVINCIAL TREASURERS are prone to estimate their expenditures high and their revenue low, he said as he predicted that the actual deficit will not equal the figure set forth in the budget.

"Strong party supporters will vary slightly to headquarters looking for additional handouts" when provincial treasurers plan for large surplus, he charged.

Grave warning that the government can easily be up too large a portion of its revenue in fixed services was voiced by the Edmonton Independent member. Those who cry, year after year, for additional services from the government, seldom seem to consider the source of the money.

"The point I am trying to make is this," he emphasized, "by adding the burden of fixed charges year by year we are providing just what we need to meet the increasing fluctuations of revenue during uncertain times."

THOUGH THE ESTIMATE that the treasury branches would show a surplus for the coming year was a relief to those who have followed the destinies of this branch of the government with alarm at the ever increasing deficits the picture was not all that good.

Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson said that a good deal of the money voted by the UFA was borrowed and that is probably true, he said. However, I believe that every member will agree with me when I say that this money was invested in the finest asset we have in the province—the future of our young men and women.

More Building During Winter Said Necessary

Construction of more large buildings during the winter months in order to take up the slack of seasonal unemployment in the building trades was urged in a resolution submitted Thursday to the prairie provincial employment committee now holding sittings in Edmonton under the chairmanship of Judge W. J. Lind.

RESOLUTION was submitted by William Carruth, manager of the Edmonton unemployment insurance office and was drawn up by J. C. Haddow and J. L. Melish of the Edmonton Builders' exchange.

The national employment committee and minister of labor are asked to investigate the feasibility of carrying on more large building construction work during winter months.

It was pointed out that the federal government would save considerable money in unemployment insurance payments while a larger volume of purchasing power would be available throughout the country.

THE COMMITTEE also received for consideration a report from Mrs. Kate Lyons, women's supervisor at the unemployment insurance office.

It outlined a plan to relieve the shortage of housework help and at the same time raise the status of maid working in private homes.

The plan, already operated successfully in Toronto and some other eastern centers, would provide for housemaids working in straight shifts instead of being available at places of employment the entire 24 hours.

SHIFTS WOULD BE from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.; 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., and 5 p.m. to midnight.

Rates of 40 cents an hour for day shifts and 30 cents an hour for the late shift would be paid.

Mrs. Lyons pointed out that it is almost impossible to secure girls for this kind of work at present under prevailing conditions of service.

There are two reasons for this. MANY OF THE GIRLS had been working for good wages under the most favorable conditions of work in war industry and they are now of the opinion that housework should be placed in a higher category.

The committee is continuing sessions at the Macdonald Friday.

Bank Clearings

Bank clearings through the Edmonton Clearing House for the week ended March 7, amounted to $12,620,000.45 as against $12,860,725.32 for the corresponding week of last year.

British Housewife Tells How She Feeds Her Family

Edith McCook, wife of a member of the London bureau of The Canadian Press, tells in this story how a British housewife tries to manage under stricter rationing. Written for The Canadian Press—EDITOR.

By EDITH MCCOOK

SOUTH HARROW, Middlesex, England, March 8.—(CP).—"Houses and bread alone are plentiful," said Mrs. Harold Atkins, South Harrow, Greater London, as she described to The Canadian Press how the manager, as a typical British housewife, to feed her family on the restricted British diet.

FEEDING HER FAMILY OF FOUR—an elderly mother-in-law, her husband and herself and their 11-year-old son—is difficult and baffling.

Mrs. Atkins admits she frequently skips a meal but claims that is a common practice among British mothers, to allow a little more food for the rest of the family. Lack of food and monotony of diet are more evident in shortness of tins and in general, far less than in any noticeable thinness among the people she says in fact, extra starch in the diet today tends to make people put on weight.

WITH SUGAR AND MILK both rationed, the "pinch" is needed, for instance, is three points out of a monthly 20 penny ration.

British breakfast has in general shrunk to tea and toast.

"It is simple to prepare, but not really nourishing," Mrs. Atkins said.

Dinner, main meal of the day, is served at noon. By exercising great care, she can occasionally serve meat three times a week. Served for another dinner; fish, when obtainable, the rest of the time.

TEA HOSTESS—Fish, although not rationed, has been plentiful and whenever it does appear a queue forms immediately.

WHEN LEND-LEASE ENDED such additions to her table as tinned meats, prepared meats and tinned steaks vanished. Canned soups are not actually off the market.

Mrs. Atkins said, fresh vegetables at present are fairly plentiful.

Miss M. E. Thornton Attends Conference

Miss M. E. Thornton, who is national secretary for the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, is in the city this week attending the conference of the Regional Advisory Board to the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

Mrs. Thornton is representing the business women at this conference of the Regional Advisory Board to the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

IODE Chapter Plans Party for the Blind

Meets meeting of the Fort Augustus Chapter, IODE, was held at the home of Miss Mary Johnson.

The recent Miss Johnson was in the chair. It was arranged to give a party to the blind on March 15 at the IODE hall with Mrs. Williams, blind convener in charge of arrangements.

Miss Johnson was appointed delegate to the provincial annual meeting.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Mrs. and Mr. D. W. Clapperton returned to Calgary Wednesday after spending a few days in Edmonton, guests at the Macdonald hotel.

Enthusiastic about the result of the Macdonald Brier curling competition just completed at Saskatoon, the team which brought a Dominion championship to Alberta for the fourth time, Mrs. Walter M. Stewart, of Montreal, wife of the head of the Macdonald Tobacco Limited, is an Edmonton visitor Friday, guest at the Macdonald hotel.

She is accompanied by Mrs. Tom Cameron, also of Montreal.

MONTREAL, ST. ALBERT—Mrs. Stewart arrived this morning from Saskatoon, where she witnessed the semifinals played there, and a firm proof of her enthusiasm and interest in curling, were the four curling sets presented her by the curling association of Halifax, Saskatchewan, St. John and Macdonald Brier, she wore on her jacket. She has another just presented at Saskatoon.

AN ARDENT SPECTATOR, Mrs. Stewart spoke in glowing terms of the reception accorded the players and visitors in Saskatoon. Mrs. Stewart is a governor of McGill University and a director of the Royal Victoria hospital, while Mrs. Cameron is vice-president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Montreal Maternity wing of the Royal Victoria hospital. They have endowed Macdonald College and both take a keen interest in that institution.

Mrs. Stewart is also active in numerous charity organizations and has played a prominent part in the Hospital Aid work.
